👥 EXPERIENCE

IIIS, Tsinghua University 2021.9 – 2024.6

Master student Advisor: Chongjie Zhang, Yi Wu

Research Outline:

- Effective and Efficient Multi-agent Reinforcement Learning
  - Analyzed the convergence properties for Linear Value Decomposition and IGM Value Decomposition under the framework of Factorized Multi-Agent Fitted Q-Iteration (FMA-FQI).
  - Analyzed the suboptimality of existing Multi-Agent Policy Gradient and Value-Decomposition MARL algorithms when using gradient descent optimizers.

- Proposed the Transformation And Distillation (TAD) framework to achieve global optimality in cooperative MARL, and designed a novel cooperative MARL algorithm, TAD-PPO, which outperforms the state-of-the-art algorithms in various cooperative MARL benchmarks.
- Proposed the Model-based Multi-agent Reinforcement Learning algorithm MAZero, which learns a multi-agent world model and does MCTS planning to achieve the SOTA sample efficiency in cooperative MARL.

- Offline-to-Online Reinforcement Learning

- Proposed UBER, an unsupervised approach to extract useful behaviors from offline, reward-free datasets via diversified rewards.
- Proposed a Bayesian design principle for offline-to-online fine-tuning to avoid the inefficiency or instability caused by overpessimistic or overoptimistic fine-tuning policy.

- Episodic Memory in Deep RL

- Presented a novel framework, GEM, to build generalizable episodic memory and improve sample efficiency. GEM consists of a novel value planning scheme for the continuous domain and a twin back-propagation process to reduce overestimation along the trajectories.
